SARAGANO

Set in the green hills of Umbria, Aethos Saragano is a quiet retreat built inside an authentic Italian village.

The hotel combines historic architecture with simple, modern design.

Our 10 modern rooms and 10 traditional apartments are scattered throughout the ancient medieval village, offering a peaceful place for guests to unwind.

The property features distinct indoor and outdoor spaces, including a pool set in an olive grove and our CECI restaurant proposing a selection of hanfcrafted local dishes, all looking out over the local vineyards and rolling Umbrian hills.
