DRIVING TEST ROUTES

With world-renowned driving routes on our doorstep, we have a wide range of different routes to choose from. We've selected our top four, but we can also create routes specifically for your needs.

Cap de Creus route (96 km)

Regularly voted as one of the top driving destinations in Europe, the Cap de Creus is the most Easterly point of the Iberian Pensinsula. With far-reaching sea views and rugged landscapes to enjoy, it provides drivers with the perfect backdrop for their drive.

Banyoles Lake and Volcano route

/Garrotxa Volcanic Zone Natural Park/ (45 km)

Banyoles Lake is Catalonia's largest freshwater lake and this shorter route takes you just past it, giving everybody plenty of opportunity to marvel at its natural beauty. The peaceful, still lake is the perfect place to unwind after a day of driving.

Forest and mountain route to Madremanya (39 km)

This winding road takes you from Camiral to Madremanya via the spectacular views of the Els Angels shrine, a beautiful sanctuary set atop a forest-covered mountain.

Coastal Route to Pals (63 km)

This route winds around the coast giving drivers spectacular views of the sea. It finishes in the wonderful medieval village of Pals, lovingly restored as a beautiful retreat from the beach.

RESORT MANAGED AS A NATURAL RESERVE

The resort has long been committed to environmental conservation and sustainability. In 2013, it was the first European Tour Destination to receive the GEO Certificate from the Golf Environment Organization. In 2020, it received the IAGTO Sustainability Award for Nature Protection in recognition of excellence in environmental and social responsibility.

The maintenance and upkeep of the resort is akin to that of a natural reserve, with resident biologist overseeing its native fauna and flora. This differs to the methodology underpinning most golf courses, in line with policies established in the European Green Deal and the EU biodiversity strategy 2020-2030.
